Magnificent

The trick fountains with a wide variety of musical accompaniment put on a grand show in front of the music pavilion several times a day. From April to November the fountains dance to the music of The Intermezzo Orchestra, Elton John, Nigel Kennedy, Jennifer Rush, Sky, Alphaville, Vanessa Mae, among others. When darkness falls, prepare to be enthralled by the colourful light effects.

Enjoy the delightful view and, when the weather is fine, you can bask in the melodies of the Bad Mergentheim Spa Ensemble from the Café Amadeus.

>> THE SALTWATER OF THE PAUL'S SPRING

Exhale

The Graduation house is located in the centre of the spa park. It was built to cater to the comfort and relaxation of our guests. A 6% concentration brine water from the Paul mineral spring trickles, undiluted, over the native blackthorn twig, enriching the surrounding air with aerosols. These aerosols result in pleasantly salty air. Take deep breaths of the aromatic, salty air while taking a walk around the house, or enter the innermost chamber of the small graduation works (Kleingradierwerk) to experience even more intense brine mist.

It's the perfect place to unwind, relax and find your inner peace.

>> SEA OF LIGHTS AT THE SPA PARK FESTIVAL

Enchanting

There's hardly any other festival that radiates an atmosphere as special as the spa park festival. Over 15,000 candles magically illuminate the spa park for an entire night. Lovingly decorated stalls from local restaurateurs and associations ensure that guests are well catered for. A thrilling festival for the young and young-at-heart, night owls, dancers, romantics and aficionados.

Dive in

You will find the sound garden a little hidden, between the Haus des Gastes and the Wandelhalle. Drift away into a magical world of natural noises and meditative sounds. Once a year, the peaceful sound garden is transformed into an open-air stage.

>> RELAX IN THE SOUND GARDEN

The rose garden, which covers approx. 1,800m² is the perfect place to pause and relax for a while, thanks to its beautifully varied flowerage. Enjoy an enchanting blend of scents and colour. Leave your cares behind and relax on our sky lounger.

TO LEAVE YOUR CARES BEHIND

Balance and harmony

The Japanese garden is a place with a very special energy, filled with tranquillity and harmony. A landscape architect from Bad Mergentheim's partner city of Fuefuki crafted this little piece of Japan in the east of the spa park in 1996. Small waterfalls, exotic plants and an arched bridge represent the Asian art of living.

Midway point

In the Haus des Gastes, which is also home to the Institute for Bad Mergentheim Spa Medicine, Health Education and Medical Wellness as well as the Spa and Rehabilitation Clinic Pastoral Care Centre, you can find all the information you need. There is a healing and spice-herbal garden close by, as well as the Kneipp cold water pool for arms and legs, where you can refresh yourself.

The Wandelhalle, built in 1935, is the centre-piece of the spa park. It is the central meeting point and the largest event hall in the town. Enjoy musical performances of the most varied kind in a light-flooded atmosphere, such as (depending on the weather) the spa concerts of the Bad Mergentheim Spa Ensemble or a range of other festivities.

The nearby shops in the spa colonnades are pleasant to stroll around and browse.

Atmosphere

The spa house lies at the edge of the spa park and was constructed in the Bauhaus architectural style in 1926. With its pleasant ambience and state-of-the-art event facilities, the large spa hall is perfect for conferences and congresses, weddings and celebrations, as well as a whole range of cultural events and theatrical performances. The small spa hall, the spa foyer and the outside terrace, which face onto the spa park, offer a lovely atmosphere 'surrounded by nature'.

The 'Vitalzentrum im Kurpark' fitness centre with its state-of-the-art equipment and expert supervision is located in the lower level.

Healing springs

>> HEALING EFFECT OF NATURE

The Fountain Temple near the Concert Hall (Wandelhalle) is wholly dedicated to health. Today, Bad Mergentheim offers a total of three drinking sources and one spring for bathing. The healthful, healing water from the Wilhelm, Albert and Karl Springs bubbles out of three fountain tables. These are used, among other things, in metabolic diseases.

The fourth spring – the Paul's Spring – serves as a bathing spring. Enjoy its effects on your skin and musculoskeletal system by visiting the Solymar Therme thermal baths in Bad Mergentheim.

>> SOURCE OF THE KARL'S SPRING

Source

On 13. October 1826, shepherd Franz Gehrig was grazing his sheep on the right bank of the river Tauber when, thanks to his thirsty animals, he discovered a salty-bitter tasting rivulet. This is the source of today's Wilhelm's Spring, whose healing spring water marked the beginning of the first Mergentheim spa season in 1829.

Awards and memberships

The Bad Mergentheim spa park has been awarded the 'Park im Kurort' seal of quality for parks in spa towns, and is a member of the 'Hohenloher Gartenparadies' and 'Gartennetz Baden-Württemberg' networks. The adjacent palace gardens of the Residential Palace are a member of the 'Staatliche Schlösser und Gärten Baden-Württemberg' state heritage and tourism agency and the Schlösser*Burgen*Gärten Baden-Württemberg e.V. association.

As early as the 17th century, spa towns maintained park facilities as recreational and retreat options for spa guests, tourists and citizens, reshaping the natural surroundings to attract visitors.

The Bad Mergentheim spa administration is a founding member of the 'IG Park im Kurort' garden network. The umbrella organisation is the Deutsche Heilbäderverband. Its members are quality-approved parks and green spaces in spa towns. All green spaces that are awarded the 'Park im Kurort' seal of quality fulfil certain criteria. The seven guiding principles include horticultural variety throughout the seasons, therapeutic points of focus and accessibility, with the aim of sustainably increasing general interest in spa park facilities.
